

1300 South
500 West to 700 West
BRIDGE REHABILITATION

1300 South Bridge Update - July 21, 2015

1300 South Bridge to open ahead of schedule

The 1300 South Bridge that stretches from 500 West to 700 West will be opening for traffic on Wednesday, July 22, two months ahead of the estimated construction schedule.

Salt Lake City and UDOT saw an opportunity to open the bridge early to reduce impacts to drivers and pedestrians travelling in the area. Drivers can expect intermittent lane closures during off-peak hours throughout the remaining construction period.

Please stay away from the construction zone for your safety.

Businesses in the area are all open and access is provided.

Upcoming work for the next week

Curb and gutter and sidewalk installation at the 700 West intersection
Finishing parapet installation (low, protective wall along the edge of the bridge)
Fence installation Off peak 9-3 and 6 pm to 6 am - one lane open in each direction

Ongoing work

Signal work at the 700 West intersection. Please watch for traffic shifts.
Repairs on the columns and other items under the structure

Lane closures during off-peak hours

9 am - 3 pm and 6 pm - 6 am - one lane will remain open in each direction

Project Recycling

Granite Construction recycles the majority of materials demolished on site. The concrete, girders, rebar, and other clean items can all be used again on future projects. They also use recycled asphalt in the Hot Mix Asphalt that comes onto the job.

Project Overview

This project is located on 1300 South in Salt Lake City between 500 West and 700 West and will include the following improvements:

- Major bridge rehabilitation including full deck replacement
- Bridge widened three feet
- Other needed structure repairs and improved seismic performance
- Improved pedestrian and bicycle safety/access
- New signal and intersection improvements at 1300 South and 700 West

Access to Local Businesses

Business access will be maintained during construction.

Please take a look at our project website, if you haven't yet. It has additional information you may find helpful.

What to expect during construction

- Traffic and pedestrian detours
- Intermittent lane closures
- Noise
- Vibrations
- Dust

Work Hours

24 hours a day, 7 days a week

Intermittent work at night and on Sunday depending on project needs

Questions or Comments

Please let us know if you have any questions or comments.
Thanks!

1300 South Construction Team
385-210-0585
1300south@utah.gov