BRIDGE REHABILITATION

1300 South Bridge Update - July 30, 2015

1300 South Bridge open to traffic

The 1300 South Bridge that stretches from 500 West to 700 West is open to traffic, two months ahead of the estimated construction schedule.

Salt Lake City and UDOT saw an opportunity to open the bridge early to reduce impacts to drivers and pedestrians travelling in the area. Drivers can expect intermittent lane closures during off-peak hours throughout the remaining construction period.

Please stay away from the construction zone for your safety.

Businesses in the area are all open and access is provided.

Upcoming work for the next week

- Curb and gutter and sidewalk installation at the 700 West intersection
- Fence installation
- Striping the roadway

Ongoing work

- Signal work at the 700 West intersection. Please watch for traffic shifts.
- Repairs on the columns and other items under the structure
- Painting items under the bridge

Lane closures during off-peak hours

9 am - 3 pm and 6 pm - 6 am - one lane will remain open in each direction
