

Community & Economic Development
Office of the Director

Briefing

Economic Impact of Historic Preservation in Utah

To: Historic Landmark Commission members

From: Joel Paterson, Planning Manager (joel.paterson@slcgov.com – 801-535-6141)

Date: September 5, 2013

Re: Briefing regarding the Economic Impact of Historic Preservation in Utah

---

Kirk Huffaker, Executive Director of Utah Heritage Foundation, will present a summary of the findings of the statewide study of the economic impact of historic preservation in Utah. The study, commissioned in December 2012, was carried out by a team led by consultants PlaceEconomics, and jointly funded by Salt Lake City Corporation, Utah Division of State History, National Trust for Historic Preservation, Utah Transit Authority, George S. and Delores Doré Eccles Foundation, Zions Bank, Cedar City Brian Head Tourism Bureau and Southern Utah University Regional Services.

Please see the attached Executive Summary.