Re: Briefing for Work without a COA Text Amendment - PLNPCM2023-00336

---

Briefing

INTRODUCTION

Mayor Erin Mendenhall has initiated a petition for a zoning text amendment to address unlawful construction and demolition activities in local historic districts and landmark sites. Historic resources add to the historical integrity or architectural qualities that make the city's historic properties significant and therefore, should be protected. Zoning and building code enforcement aren't currently equipped with appropriate tools or fines to account for the illegal demolition of a historic resource, the loss of a contributing resource is irreversible. These amendments seek to address this.

This proposed text amendment does the following:

- Brings city regulations into alignment with preservation objectives.
- Establish a new process to remedy alterations or demolition that occur without city approvals.
- Adds enforcement penalties to prevent and respond to violations in the local historic districts and to local historic landmark sites.
- Requires reconstruction of an illegally demolished historic building.
- Requires a restrictive covenant be recorded after reconstruction of a historic building. That covenant would explicitly prohibit demolition of the reconstructed building for 25 years.

ACTION REQUESTED:

No action required. The purpose of the briefing is to introduce the Planning Commission to the proposal, gather feedback, identify key issues, and answer questions.

PROPOSAL:
The ramification of inadequate enforcement tools for violations of preservation regulations can lead to an increase of or actual incentivization of unlawful alterations or illegal demolitions.

While typical code violations can be reversed through repair or maintenance, once all or part of a historic building is demolished, it cannot be replaced. Treating demolition like other work done without a Certificate of Appropriateness is not enough. To strengthen Salt Lake City's preservation efforts, this text amendment proposes the following:

1. Making reconstruction a requirement for demolition of a contributing structure or a landmark site. Any contributing principal building or landmark site demolished without a certificate of appropriateness would require reconstruction.

2. Making a restrictive covenant a requirement. Prior to issuance of a certificate of appropriateness for required reconstruction, the property owner would enter into a legally binding restrictive covenant. The restrictive covenant would provide for the following, without limitation: Acknowledge the required reconstruction, prohibit demolition, and major alterations to the reconstructed structure for 25 years from the date of the issuance of the certificate of occupancy transferrable to any future property owner, the nature of the approval and any conditions thereof, the terms of compliance with all applicable regulations, and the potential enforcement actions for any violation of the agreement.

3. Creating Section 21A.34.020.N, Enforcement. Adding an Enforcement section that lists the consequences for work conducted to properties subject to the Historic Preservation Overlay District without first obtaining a certificate of appropriateness.

4. Coordinating with other city code sections that relate to reconstruction and enforcement. The following are sections of the city code besides 21A.34 that would need to be changed:
   - Amending text to 21A.38.040.H.5.d to say that “a nonconforming use may be restored when reconstruction is approved according to the provisions of 21A.34.020.M”.
   - Amending text to 21A.38.040.G to say that “a noncomplying structure may be restored when reconstruction is approved according to the provisions of 21A.34.020.M”.
   - *Adding the definition to 21A.62.040:

         RECONSTRUCTION (AS IT APPLIES TO PROPERTIES WITHIN THE H HISTORIC PRESERVATION OVERLAY DISTRICT): The act or process of depicting, by means of new construction, the form, features, and detailing of a non-surviving site, landscape, building, structure, or object for the purpose of replicating its appearance at a specific period of time and in its historic location.

Reconstruction and restrictive convenance are meant to have a deterrent effect, particularly to a property owner hoping to redevelop a site with a larger, sometimes more lucrative, new structure. Once a structure is reconstructed the contributing status goes away and demolition of a new structure could easily be approved, the restrictive covenant would keep it from happening for many years.
BACKGROUND & RESEARCH:
Currently fines and penalties for violations are not mentioned in Salt Lake City’s preservation ordinance, Section 21A.34.020. There are no penalties for unlawful alterations or demolitions to contributing structures and landmark sites. Fines are addressed in Title 18 and Section 21A.20 of the city code.

1) Research

According to the National Trust for Historic Preservation¹ one of the key components of a preservation ordinance is the use of fines and penalties for violation of ordinance provisions. Preservation ordinances usually empower local jurisdictions to issue stop-work orders and impose fines and other penalties for individual violations. Penalties for unlawful alterations or demolitions may include the denial of a building permit for several years or mandatory reconstruction.

The use of both fines and penalties is advantageous in achieving preservation goals. For example, if only reconstruction is required without the fines, the incentive to move forward with reconstruction could be gone and a site would remain vacant for a very long time. On the other hand, if only fines are required, a property owner could see these fines as part of the cost of doing business.

In researching for this text amendment, staff found some cities with ordinances that include variations of fines and penalties. These cities are only a sample, there are many other cities with similar ordinances that specify fines and penalties for violation of preservation regulations.

New Orleans² - the State of Louisiana and City of New Orleans have increased the maximum amount a property owner can be fined for illegally demolishing a historic structure.

Pasadena³ - no building or construction-related permits shall be issued for a period of five years following the date of demolition or complete reconstruction.

Philadelphia⁴ - any person who alters or demolishes a structure shall be required to restore the structure to its appearance prior to the violation. Such restoration shall be in addition to and not in lieu of any other penalty or remedy.

Denver⁵ - in case of a violation, the commission may order that a structure be returned to its condition prior to such unlawful erection, construction, reconstruction, exterior alteration, addition or demolition. This may specifically include ordering the reconstruction of a structure that was demolished to replicate as closely as possible the original structure.

2) Current Efforts to Address City Fines

This text amendment is not addressing fines because another text amendment, started by the Building Services Division, is simultaneously being processed to amendment Title 18 and Section 21A.20, that among other changes, would reflect some of the desired improvements for fines and the process for fines.

The following are some changes the Building Services’ text amendment is proposing that are related to this text amendment:

- Create fines for failure to obtain a certificate of appropriateness for full or partial demolition of a contributing structure or landmark site, the new fines would be $250 per day. This is a new fine.
- Increase fees for registration to board a building to $14,000. Currently the fee is $1,560.
- Create an enhanced fee for boarded contributing structures of $14,850. This enhanced fee for contributing structures is new.
- Create stop work order violation fines of $250 per day. This is a new fine.
- Increase general fines for violations to $50-$200 per day depending on the violation. Currently these fines are $25-$100 per day.

MASTER PLAN GOALS:

The proposed text amendment would support the following city goals as listed on these following master plans:

Plan Salt Lake, adopted 2015.
- Preservation
  - Guiding Principle: Maintaining places that provide a foundation for the city to affirm our past.
  - Initiatives:
    - Retain areas and structures of historic and architectural value.
    - Integrate preservation into City regulation, policy, and decision making.

Community Preservation Plan, adopted 2012.
- Adopt a Wider Range of Preservation Tools
  - The specific tools suggested are stricter demolition regulations, more types of guidelines and more incentives in the form of regulatory, financial and procedural.
- Enforcement of Regulations and Approvals
  - Code enforcement for historic projects is challenging. Inadequate enforcement can result in a perception that projects completed without approval will receive more lenient review.
- Ensure preservation regulations are enforced.
  - Program regulations need to be enforced to ensure applicable regulations and review process are adhered to and that the City is sending a clear and consistent message in support of historic preservation and community character preservation.
  - Identify the importance of enforcement of the regulations to encourage property owners to seek appropriate approvals and send a clear and consistent message regarding historic preservation.
PUBLIC PROCESS:

On October 3, 2023, notice of the application and the draft ordinance was sent to all registered Salt Lake City Recognized Organizations. The 45-day public comment period will end on November 17, 2023. The Open House was posted on October 10, 2023. On October 23, 2023, the planning division sent out public outreach to stakeholders. During and following this comment period, the Planning Division will consider all public comments received and make appropriate modifications to the proposed ordinance language.

Next Steps

- The planning division will continue to refine and make changes to the proposed draft ordinance based on an evaluation of commission feedback and further public input.

- The proposal will return to the Historic Landmark Commission and Planning Commission for a public hearing and recommendation that will be forwarded to the City Council.

- The City Council will hold an additional public hearing and ultimately decide on the proposed text amendment.

Information related to the proposal is publicly available online on the city’s planning division website located here:

If a building or structure that contains a nonconforming use is involuntarily destroyed in whole or in part due to fire or other calamity and the structure or use has not been abandoned, the nonconforming use may be resumed and the building or structure may be restored to the condition prior to the destruction, provided such work is reasonably pursued in a time frame determined by the building official after such calamity.

21A.38.050: NONCOMPLYING STRUCTURES:

G. Deterioration, Damage Or Destruction Of Noncomplying Structure: Restoration of a deteriorated, damaged or destroyed noncomplying structure shall be subject to the following:

1. If a noncomplying structure is allowed to deteriorate to a condition that the structure is rendered uninhabitable as determined by the building official and is not repaired or restored within one year after written notice to the property owner that the structure is uninhabitable, the noncomplying structure status will be lost and requires either complete demolition or compliance with the standards of the zoning district in which the structure is located.

2. If a property owner or authorized representative voluntarily demolishes a noncomplying structure or the noncomplying structure is required by law to be razed, the structure shall not be restored unless it is restored to comply with the regulations of the zone in which it is located. Demolition of a noncomplying structure includes any act or process that destroys or removes seventy five percent (75%) or more of the perimeter wall length and area dimensions of exterior walls and/or total floor area of a structure.

3. A noncomplying structure may be restored when reconstruction is approved according to the provisions of 21A.34.020.M.1.a.

4. If a noncomplying structure is involuntarily destroyed in whole or in part due to fire or other calamity and the structure or use has not been abandoned, the structure may be restored to its original condition with respect to building footprint, setback, height and other noncomplying dimensional standards of the zoning district in which the structure is located, provided such work is started within one year, unless a longer time frame is approved by the building official, after such calamity.
SECTION 3. Amending the Text of Salt Lake City Code Section 21A.62.040. That Section 21A.62.040 of the Salt Lake City Code (Zoning: Definitions: Definitions of Terms) shall be and hereby is amended to add the following definitions, which shall be inserted in alphabetical order and shall read as follows:
