

ARTS LEARNING GUIDELINES

CITY ARTS GRANTS

The City Arts Grants program is designed to provide financial support for arts programs and projects in Salt Lake City that merit public funding.

There are five City Arts Grants categories, each with its own eligibility standards, guidelines and review criteria. They are General Support, Project Support, Mini Grants, Arts Learning and Artist-in-the-Classroom.

Because the City Arts Grants are supported with public tax dollars, the board places a priority on those programs that best reflect the Arts Council's mission and serve the residents of Salt Lake City. City Arts Grants can support only those programs and projects which take place within Salt Lake City limits.

The City Arts Grants program is competitive and includes a rigorous application review process. A newly completed application must be submitted each year and a grant award in one year does not guarantee an award for the following year. The award of City Arts Grants is made at the sole discretion of the Salt Lake City Arts Council and the decision of the board is final.

ARTS LEARNING DESCRIPTION

The Arts Learning grant category was established to support arts learning activities that reach youth of all means, backgrounds and abilities in Salt Lake City. The funding for this category is intended to recognize the value of providing access and exposure to a wide variety of quality arts experiences and art forms for Salt Lake City's youth.

The Arts Learning grant category supports new and existing programs with opportunities for all Salt Lake City youth and a commitment to reaching underserved populations. It is the intent of this category to provide grants that would support free programs or scholarships or sliding fee scales to enable access for all youth.

ELIGIBILITY:

In order to be eligible for an Arts Learning grant, the applicant must:

- Be a 501 (c)(3) nonprofit organization, individual artist or group of artists;
- Have programming that serves youth grades pre K – 12.
 - Youth who benefit from activities funded through this grant category must be Salt Lake City residents.
- Request support for arts projects and programs occurring in Salt Lake City;
- Have a budget that is at least equally cash matched (1:1);
 - Matching funds may be anticipated at the time of application, but must be received and obligated by the ending date of the grant year as indicated in the application.
 - Because City Arts Grants funds are limited, applicants are expected to seek additional sources of support, including contributions (from individuals, businesses, and foundations), earned income, and grants from other government agencies. A balance of revenue sources demonstrates good fiscal planning as well as broad community support.
 - In-kind contributions are welcome, but will not meet the matching requirement. However, the Arts Learning grant category recognizes donated facilities as part of the matching requirement. If the facility is recorded as in-kind, it must be listed on the budget in BOTH projected income and projected expenses.
- Be responsible for tracking and reporting demographic information on participating youth;
- Perform services within a twelve-month period beginning no earlier than September 1, 2013 and ending no later than August 31, 2014. Arts Learning grants are awarded on a yearly basis and applicants must re-apply every year.

Programs that are free or provide scholarships or sliding fee scale to enable access for youth from lower income families will be give priority.

Funding Limitations:

City Arts Grants cannot be awarded for:

- Projects already underway or completed prior to the grant year as designated in the application;
- Programs or travel outside of Salt Lake City;
- Tuition of college or university study;
- Programs provided by a for-profit business, such as a corporation or LLC;
- Deficit reduction.

Additional Information:

The Arts Learning grant category was established in order to support arts learning activities for youth in Salt Lake City. To track the service areas of this grant category, we ask that grant recipients determine what City Council district your participants live in. Visit <http://council.slcgov.com/pages/mapHelp.htm> to identify the districts in which your participants live.

This information can be obtained through any number of methods, there is not set tracking system. It is important that you find a method that works best for you. One option is to collect participant addresses up front, but a simple tally (whether through a registration form or even raised hands) will suffice. Another option, if you/your organization work/s with the school system, is to request the information from school administrators who should be able to provide you with demographic information.

REVIEW CRITERIA

The following are considered during the review and approval process for applications:

- Artistic quality;
- Ability to administer and implement the project, including the development of a realistic budget;
- Constituency served and number of people served through the project;
- Effective and accountable management practices;
- Value to the community as evidenced by community support, public profile and public participation;
- Payment of professional fees to artists;
- Programs and services must be open to the public and not restricted to members only;
- Access for all constituents regardless of disability, ethnicity, age, economic status, etc.
- A community-based board of directors or trustees (if applicable);
- Completeness and clarity of application.

Review Process:

The Grants Committee, comprised primarily of Salt Lake City Arts Council board members with knowledge of the arts community, educational system, and the community-at-large, meet regularly to review City Arts Grants applications. Committee members are provided with the applications in advance in order to review the materials prior to each meeting. Applications are reviewed by category, and decisions for funding are based on comprehensive discussions on the merits of each application and on the budget allocated for the City Arts Grants program.

The grant award recommendations from the Grants Committee are provided to the full board for discussion and approval and the applicants are then notified of the board's decision by mail. The City Arts Grants awards are published in the Arts Council's quarterly newsletter and website.

The Grants Committee will meet in April to review all Arts Learning applications. The committee recommendations will go before the board for final approval in August. Applicants will receive preliminary notification of recommendations in May and a confirmation of the final decision in August.

SERVICES TO UNDERSERVED POPULATIONS

The Salt Lake City Arts Council encourages applicants to consider providing access to underserved populations. These populations may be defined as people who would not ordinarily have the opportunity to participate in arts or cultural activities. Examples include seniors, people of ethnic background, people with disabilities, or those from low income households.

INSURANCE

As a good business practice, the Salt Lake City Arts Council encourages all applicants to purchase some form of liability insurance, appropriate to the activity, for both project participants and audience members.

APPLICATION PROCESS

All applications must be completed and received at the City Arts Council office no later than the deadline with one hard copy and one copy sent electronically. Late applications will not be reviewed. Applications submitted that are determined to be incomplete will be ruled ineligible for funding.
