

Enhanced Street Lighting Customers

Please join a workshop to learn about the current status of street lighting in your area and to provide your input and ideas.

The Special Assessment Area (SAA) approach that involved an annual assessment was not serving the residents or the City well. After months of evaluating options, the City Council decided to dissolve the SAAs and move to a public utility surcharge for enhanced street lighting services.

The City has hired a utility rate consulting firm, to work with City staff and the public, to make recommendations on future surcharge fees.

Unable to attend? Please provide the City your input on the City's on-line forum, Open City Hall: www.slccouncil.com/ . For background information regarding the Council's past discussions on this topic, visit: <http://www.slccouncil.com/>
