Our Mission: To empower people to engage in local food production by using the resources available in their community.

Our Programs:

FruitShare: We partner with fruit tree owners and community volunteers to harvest and distribute fruit that would otherwise go to waste.

Back-Farms: We educate volunteers in organic gardening while growing food for disadvantaged community members in the back-yards of senior citizens.

Mobile Market: We bring our converted school bus to local food deserts in Salt Lake City, providing below market-cost produce to residents living in these communities.

Educational Opportunities: We host workshops, a hands-on fruit tree care workshop series, and a year long Farmer training program.
