It is an opportunity for our community to help those in need. The plan for the other side community will help provide opportunities for the homeless with dual diagnosis to get the help they need and become self-reliant. .   |

This concept for a solution is a very sound model for the homeless problem in the Salt Lake City community. My understanding is that the homeless who would like to be a part of the Village would have to qualify & have a desire to work, pay rent & pledge to keep it lovely. The beauty of this model is that it would be self-sustaining & would not cost the taxpayer (you & me) a single dime! I love the whole Other Side philosophy: absolute honesty, integrity & accountability. The Other Side Village would be a Win/Win for both the homeless & the community at large. I would respectfully urge the City Council to approve the zoning of the property for this project.   |
| 9/14/2022 15:35  | Carolyn Clark         | D3             | Council Comments | Proposed Changes to RMF-30 Zoning District           | Say NO to the Revised 675 F Street Rezone Request           | Dear Council: My husband and I are long-time residents of the Avenues. We strongly object to Ivory Homes' current request for rezoning at the property located at 675 N 'F' Street. The rezone would not be suitable for the Avenues. The Avenues is not the right place to add denser housing. Ivory's rezone request is altogether too dense for this location. Let's get real, here. The intent of the Ivory rezone request is clearly not for the benefit of local residents. Ivory's intent in asking for this rezone is so they can make more money on less land. Ivory claims that it will be developing "affordable housing." But it plans to sell its units for 1 to 2 million bucks each. Last time I checked, a million dollar home was not considered "affordable." This development will do nothing toward providing affordable housing. It is totally unrealistic to imagine that the owners would rent out their ADUs as low income rentals. So what, actually, would this do to help out SLC's "affordable housing crisis"???? As you are well aware, zoning regulations exist for a reason. If zoning regulations can be changed whenever a developer wants to change them, what good are they? If the proposed changes were for the good of the community, maybe that would be a reason to approve a rezone. Well, in this case, the rezone is definitely not for the good of the community. This is totally obvious if you look at the results of past votes taken by the Greater Avenues Community Council (GACC) [1244 to 25 against rezoning]. The rezone would only be for the good of Ivory Homes, so they could squeeze more money out of their intended project. Ivory has not given sufficient consideration to access for emergency vehicles, nor to garbage removal, snow removal, and other city services. Many housing units would be sharing the same small access road. We are concerned about growing traffic on our Avenues streets. These streets were designed and built many years ago. They were not built for heavy usage. They already present risks at 4-way corners. So much additional traffic from the proposed over-populated cottages would exacerbate the dangers. Then, because we are at a higher elevation than most parts of Salt Lake City, the risks get even worse on snowy or icy days. In addition, we are an active neighborhood, with many walkers and cyclists. Please notice our attempts at "traffic calming." We don't need more traffic to add more danger for pedestrians!!!! At the last City Council meeting, Ivory presented some superficial survey stating that we don't have a high accident rate. I do not believe their survey. I know several residents who have been involved in accidents at local intersections. |
| 9/14/2022 15:35  | Carolyn Clark         | D3             | Council Comments | CONTINUED Proposed Changes to RMF-30 Zoning District | CONTINUED Say NO to the Revised 675 F Street Rezone Request | We have been involved in accidents at local intersections. We have not been involved in accidents elsewhere. Maybe that is anecdotal evidence, but there sure are a lot of anecdotes that should be considered. Even if we didn't have accidents now, let's not make it worse. Ivory's request is not compatible with the ambiance of our neighborhood. Two of the aspects we most love about the Avenues are the relative quiet of the neighborhoods and the presence of older, individually-built homes, each with their own unique characteristics. These proposed homes do not align with that vision. According to Ivory's plans, there will be minimal setback and minimal greenspace. There are even a number of lovely mature trees that would be removed. That's bad for wildlife, bad for aesthetics, bad for our quality of life, and not suitable for the Avenues. We live here for a reason. Please do not destroy what we love! In summary, Ivory Homes' request for a rezone at 675 N 'F' Street lacks a logical basis for approval. Please listen to your local residents. Please value our input over the claims of one more greedy development company. Please do the right thing and do not approve the Ivory Homes Rezone request. Respectfully submitted, Carolyn Clark & Rick Gamble (long-time Avenues residents)  |

The housing would have to be augmented with other services to help homeless people get healthcare, jobs, and training. It might be a temporary solution before the individuals are able to rent actual apartments or houses, perhaps a long transition   |

The other side village is doing what it can to change this. It is my belief that this village is a no-brainer and should be pushed to be created ASAP so we can truly begin to heal the homelessness epidemic we see in this state.  |

Throughout discussions of this village, there are many potential problems that have come up. Most of them are definitely valid concerns, but they are not good enough reasons to give up on thhis project. The leaders of this project have experience working with this population and have proven that they are willing and capable of learning and adapting as they execute their project. All innovations have an element of risk. Taking a chance on promoting a true community of support for prople who have never had it is definitely worth the risk. Please vote on favor of The Other Side Village. Thank you. |

They ask for even more from the city. They have NO IDEA what they are doing they even admit that. No experience at all in the concept of dealing with real homeless and their friends. They do a good job with released prisoners... that is a total different situation. They already are clean and have to sign a contract to commit to 30 months of service. They are also on probation.. knowing if they screw up they can go back to jail... So what makes you think you know anything about the other population????? They don't they will tell you that But the city is supposed to just give them without consequences this start up project and when it gets hairy like the Roadhome did. they will bail on it... or they will tell the city they need 10s of millions more... for what ??? 40 more little homes... do you know how many rent vouchers you can get for 100 million dollars..... I am against this unless the people who admit say they have NO idea what the heck they are doing can prove they do..... It is a bunch of rich folks tossing money at something to see if it will stick. There are other tiny home villages in small scale around the country... Since when do they need a theater the city already provides for that... Oh they don't like to intermingle... That is society... They don't need a pavillion for what?? The new Glendale park will provide that. The people are going to keep coming from around the country the homeless in the most part are NOT from here...How are they going to get workers You can;t even find people to work at the temporary shelters to get them open in the winter... How are they going to solve that problem Look at the Magnolia is it staffed properly. Do they take care of the property? I went to the open house and was told it would not cost any money except the city needs to give the land... Then the report is 100 million. Build them small all around the state no more than 20 houses like they do in the other states. There is a cement maker over there by gosh sakes,, industrial zoned area. Why is it ALWAYS Salt Lake City that is responsible for this? What about Bountiful WoodCross. What about Davis county... Most these folks came here the last few years because the Tribune in 2015 wrote an article how we had the homeless situation under control.. now they migrated here and increased by 2000. how many more is the city supposed to support The state needs to step it up and make it mandatory all major and mid level cities have resource centers and that way they can help transition people into their communities INSTEAD of sending them to SLC.. and then point the finger at us and say fix it, |

Food services tell me how they can't build a facility.... golly gee.... Bountiful Woodcross and North Salt Lake seem to have land and money available... jobs galore. ...  |

My wife and I have been aware of and have been following the tremendously successful efforts of The Other Side Academy to help the homeless and those who struggle with chronic problems in their lives. We have donated money and time to them, and feel that the current plan to create a set of tiny homes in Salt Lake City is a tremendously positive endeavor. Salt Lake has struggled with its homeless population that currently exists. It's been a difficult road, and I know that the city has been looking for viable solutions. For a relatively small contribution of land and proper zoning, Salt Lake will have the nation's leading solution to this plight. It begins with changing hearts. I've been to the other side Academy and have seen the incredible change that has happened in the lives of the people who have passed through their program. I am so pleased that you all can now take this important step. We thank you for your efforts, and many, many people will thank you for decades to come. Sincerely, Brad and Gayle Myler Highland, Utah  |

The services offered by the Academy are not only inspiring but the philosophy of the Academy WORKS. In view of the serious issue of homelessness in Utah, I was delighted to hear the objectives of the Other Side Village. If there is any chance of helping solve the homeless issue, my bet is the Other Side Village will be a shining light and a beacon for other parts of the State to follow. While I don't reside in Salt Lake City, the impact of homelessness and my families safety have had an impact on our visiting Salt Lake on a regular basis. The success of the Other Side Village will turn the tide and allow us to feel more secure and not be threatened by those who seriously need an option to help them help themselves. The Other Side Village will provide that option. I told my family recently, Salt Lake City is one city I DO NOT feel safe in after dark (and increasingly during daylight hours.) Approval of the petition by the Other Side Village will hopefully turn the tide (and/or keep the homeless issue from getting worse). If looking at the present state of affairs, whatever is supposed to be working to address the homeless issue, IS'NT. The Other Side Village is worth giving a try for the benefit of the entire comminity and state. Robert D. Hazen |

I was a little leary when this huge man came to deliver a piece of furniture, but he was so kind and so careful my fears melted away. I love the concept of The Other Side Village and its tiny homes. I have not been homeless, but as I think about it, the hardest thing for me to handle would be not having a safe place of my own, a door and walls between me and the world. I love the plan for easy access to services that would help to lift people. I'm also looking forward to the chance to interact with the community through events and offering assistance. I hope you will take the legal steps to make this village possible. Sincerely, Charliece Hillery   |

The health and economic security of downtown, the health of the most seriously ill, and the futures of our struggling small businesses all depend upon the City Council. Do the right thing and show taxpayers Salt Lake City is prepared to set a national example of how to care compassionately for its homeless. Thank you so much for your service. Sonja Eddings Brown  |

They have succeeded in their campus on 700 East and our company, The Boyer Company, may be interested in contributing to the Village, if approved, because of the vision they have. We need to focus on finding better solutions to the homeless challenges in our City and this will be helpful in resolving this problem. As a company (The Boyer Company), and individually, we would humbly request that the Other Side Village receive approval. |

I have researched and read about similar living communities that have been established and are very successful in multiple ways. I believe this village would be a great thing for our city, to not only help improve the major homelessness issue that we have and the problems that go with it, but to help improve the lives of those who are homeless who can then, in turn, contribute to our society. Please approve The Other Side Village.   |

TOSA changed my life. Today I live a clean and normal life because of the standards I learned during my 2 year stay. The Other Side Village will help those that need help and will offer them the standards and way of living that TOSA teaches and hold everyone accountable to. This is HUGE and will make a GIANT impact in our community!! Please allow them to make this happen!!  |

I've been in the Academy a few times and find their goals and principles to be remarkable. Their success rate is amazing and they are truly changing lives. I work for a company that is donating funds to help build a house and we support them to our core. It would be amazing to see a way to end homelessness. I volunteer with homeless youth and see some of the struggles they face every day. There isn't a lot for them to look forward too. This is an already funded solution to a problem that will grow until it is corrected. Providing an opportunity for those who want an improved life off the streets is the only way to truly help this individuals change their path. To provide structure, safety, order and a way for them to become self sufficient should be the highest goal. It is my understanding there will be a high expectation of conduct in the village and therefore, I see this project as an ideal approach to avoiding much of the ugliness homelessness tends to create in a community, namely, crime, substance abuse and vandalism. I am all for this project and look forward to the improvements it will provide the Salt Lake Valley in regards to our homeless problem.            |

I support the efforts to provide services to the drug addicted and mentally ill segments of these people. In particular, the Other Side Village initiative seems to have a lot of merit. However, there also needs to be consequences for those who persist in their homeless behaviors (e.g. panhandling, camping on city streets, piling up garbage, etc.) without availing themselves of the resources available. I see that the city provides the "carrots" for homeless individuals but is doing little to show the "sticks." People camping on the streets should be moved on. Without these incentives (albeit negative ones), the desirability of Salt Lake as a city will continue to be ranked lower because of crime and safety. |

There are many different reasons why it occurs and many ways of helping have been proposed and tried. There does not appear to be a solution that solves everything. The Other Side Village is a way of helping a targeted few. Following the success of The Other Side Academy that creates a small community where people help and take care of each other with some external structure and guidance, The Other Side Village seeks to benefit the larger community by assisting and strengthening some individuals that are members the larger community but currently are not a part of it. I encourage you to vote in favor of the zoning amendment so that The Other Side Village and the individuals living there can contribute and benefit the larger community.          |

The Council should absolutely approve this proposal to lease the land to enable TOSV project to become a reality. Not only is it the right thing to do to help our community of homeless persons, but the council staff report itself advocates numerous benefits to the city itself economically by approving such a request. The Other Side Academy has demonstrated its positive impact across our community since its inception, and I have no doubt they would be able to do a lot of good for SLC with the land parcel. Please approve this proposal. Thank you, Marc Pardee  |

I personally know so many of the staunch supporters of TOSA, my husband and I being two of them, and I haven't met more fully dedicated people whose laser focus is intentioned upon this population than they are. To not give them the opportunity to implement the tried and true practices among the homeless that have had such massive success with so many at TOSA is to abandon an idea that, it must be said, is probably your most likely idea to ever work in the long term for these people who need it most. How many more days are we going to pass a homeless person by and shake our head with sorrow? How many more years are we going to sit with the underlying sense of unease at not being able to come up with a single idea that might help? Here we have the most qualified among us, begging you to let them have a chance to prove that they can do something, and who have almost seven years clear uncontested PROOF that their program works more successfully than any other, not to mention all of the people in place who they will need to make it happen. Why would you not give this a chance? When has there ever been a moment like this where so many outstanding community leaders, from police to health care workers to mayors and entrepreneurs and major home builders and financial institutions, are poised to act? Now is the time! TOSA is ready! Everyone is ready! Are you? |

This is a way for motivated homeless individuals to become positive and engaged members of society. The foundation of personal stability and moving forward is housing. With stable housing, an individual is able to make progress in other areas of their life. They can focus on employment and advancement instead of wondering where they will sleep. The feeling of homelessness is depressing, ashamed and feelings of unwantedness is not how anyone would want to feel. Giving the homeless a place to stay and be proud of, a place they feel safe, their own to get back on their feet, cleaned up, hygienically and maybe substance wise and get a job and have a foundation to get back to where they were before homelessness or maybe for the first time in their lives. That is the reason The Other Side Academy and The Other Side Villages deserve a chance! In my opinion we need these communities in every city or within close boundaries in every state! Imagine the decline of homelessness! They are doing great things with this!  |

| 9/15/2022 22:36  | Trevor Fielding | Outside of SLC | Council Comments | Homelessness                   | Support for The Other Side Village Vote           | Hello! I am a student at Utah Valley University majoring in Political Science and minoring in Peace and Justice Studies. I first started with The Other Side Village as a volunteer about a year ago then was hired on as the Communications Manager back in February of this year. I wanted to express my support for the Village and the rezoning of the plot that will be used by it. I normally write on behalf of the Village, but for this public comment, I'm writing as myself. There are generally 3 main (and understandable) concerns that appear regarding this planned community, Safety, Crime, and Cleanliness. The Village has addressed all three of these thoroughly and many times. In short, these are the reasons why we can trust the Village to deftly handle the complex reality of homelessness in this Modified Therapeutic Community. 1. A combination of 200% accountability and extensive support. You know that you hit the sweet spot when you get opposition from both sides of the political spectrum, progressives are concerned that the Village will have too high of expectations, while conservatives are concerned that the Village will be too loose with expectations. Instead of falling for this false dichotomy, the Village will perpetuate a culture of 200% accountability (responsible not just for yourself, but for your neighbors as well) AND utilize involved and in-depth support such as basic needs, medical support, therapy, and behavioral coaching from professionals (Valley Behavioral Health), vocational opportunities, social events, and others. The Village believes it is a form of prejudice to decide beforehand what someone can or cannot do, they believe that everyone has the power to take charge of their own lives. Through accountability and support that's exactly what they plan to do. 2. Misconceptions It's an unfortunate belief that those experiencing homelessness are often criminals, in reality, they are often the victims of crimes. "Community First!" in Austin Texas is a similar program to the Village and has had multiple crimes reported inside their community that were committed by residents of a nearby neighborhood, and 0 crimes reported outside of the community that were committed by "Community First!" residents, turning that misconception on its head. There were also concerns about lowering property values of nearby neighborhoods, but in reality, property values have only increased. These are powerful anecdotes, especially considering that the Village will be more structured, more therapeutic, and (in my personal opinion) more effective than the "Community First!" program. |
| 9/15/2022 22:36  | Trevor Fielding | Outside of SLC | Council Comments | Homelessness                   | CONTINUED Support for The Other Side Village Vote | 3. It's already been done I already mentioned "Community First!" and there are many other Modified Therapeutic Communities throughout the world; all of which the Village is using for research to be aware of their struggles and build on their successes. Most importantly, however, is that the Village is the sister organization of The Other Side Academy, a program that has been running for 7 years with great success. Neighbors of the Academy are all in full support of it and even stood up for the academy when the city was considering having them relocate. The reason? Crime rates had gone down in that surrounding community, and the academy was a source of pride for the community members. The Academy has been so successful that another location was built in Denver as well. There will always be risks with novel ideas and projects, that is the nature of innovation. The Village however is not reinventing the wheel, it is being built on large amounts of research, planning, and strategy, and is based heavily on previous successful projects. Ultimately, we all want the same thing, a smart and effective solution for our brothers and sisters experiencing homelessness that also improves the quality of living immediately surrounding it. I believe that The Other Side Village is that smart and effective solution, and has the potential to make the Westside a shining example of homeless empowerment &amp; support for the rest of Utah, and even the nation. I urge you to strongly consider voting in support of this rezoning and subsequently providing support for this program. -Trevor Fielding  |

It is one of 6 homes built as part of an RDA project called Jefferson Parkway. During the planning and approval of this project great effort was put into preserving the neighborhood feel, adding walkability to the area with a cross block walkway and requiring a one parking unit per home. All very expensive add ons to the project but ones that enhanced the area. Since then several new projects have been built where single family homes and now a church are being replaced by 3 and 4 story structures with ZERO attention paid to walkability and even less to parking issues. We now have added almost 100 living units with NO PARKING REQUIRED at all. Besides the inequity of this given the history of the project it creates congestion, angry neighbors and an overall unpleasant living situation. 100% avoidable if some attention was paid to the history of the neighborhood and respect for the families that live here. Please DO NOT EVER allow housing to be sandwiched into neighborhoods without parking or, at a minimum, protective regulations for those who live there now to have parking.  |

| 9/16/2022 10:07  | Lew Swain              | N/A      | Online Forum     | Homelessness  | The Other Side Village  | Council members I am pleased that you are considering a zone change of the historic landfill site for the Other Side Village. I have been surprised that it has taken a considerable amount of time for you to consider this matter. I am very supportive of the proposal to build roughly 400 homes for those currently living in incampments throughout the city. Here are the reasons for my affirmative position. The management of the Other Side Academy have addressed homelessness of the most challenging population in our communities, homeless, addicted, felons. They have shown how this population can learn, change and more than 70% of their graduates reintegrate positively into society. They have done this without any financial support from government including Salt Lake. This same team is willing to build a village on difficult land leased to them by the city. They will build it and manage it with the same principles they have used at the Other Side Academy. Principles that help individuals become self-reliant not just warehoused problems. Healthcare will be addressed on site and for those who wish to work, employment opportunities will be provided both on and off site. The peer support model used at the Other Side Academy will help insure that the village residents comply with the standards established by the community. The first phase will occupy about 8 acres, as I understand. This will provide about 60 residential units. I have been told that the cost estimate to finish this phase is about $8000,000. The Applicant is willing to clean up the city's environmental problem, build all of the improvements, and manage the 8-acre project with no financial help from the city. Why isn't the city saying bless you, how fast can you get this built??? Think about this. Even in the very unlikely event that the project doesn't meet the city's expectations and the ground lease is defaulted the city becomes the owner of an affordable housing project worth $8000,000 having paid nothing for it. This is not the first project of this kind. There are others around the country that have been operating for years very successfully. Please provide a way for this project to be built and managed by those who have proven they are worthy of your trust. Make it easy not difficult with imposed unnecessary burdens. Let the Other Side Academy build the first phase and prove that it is a good thing for the whole city. If it is as successful as I hope it will be, please expedite the approval of the balance of the site. With Respect |

I don't believe the project will solve homelessness, but I do believe in two things with this project: 1) trying out a good idea and 2) the organization running the program. Homelessness is a complicated problem, and with housing prices and availability I am scared it will continue to get worse. I think building a tiny home village is a small, but good attempt to help people. I also think The Other Side is a great organization with good programming that will be a great partner in running the village. I encourage you to vote in favor. Thank you Miles   |

With little to no resources in SLC for un-housed folks, I believe The Village will add value to our community and will begin to solve some of the inequalities and inequities that exist in Salt Lake. I would also like to state that we cannot solve homelessness if we continue to shut down any resources for and efforts to support the unhoused.   |

I am sending this email in light of the possible new development of tiny homes by the other side to create a neighborhood where chronic homelessness can be addressed. As you are well aware this is a complicated and expensive issue. I think it is a great idea to create housing for chronic homelessness and this is the first step to a more successful life than living on the street. We can be a model here in Salt Lake for a successful endeavor to and this incredibly complex problem. Drugs alcohol and mental illness and lack of stability all contribute to this phenomenon. Please vote to create this we have spent a lot of money here in Salt Lake on the homeless and have not been successful at all in alleviating the horrible situation that these people face every day. Thank you Deb Sussman   |

Recognizing that a variety of solutions are needed to address the complexities of homelessness, I want to convey our support for two issues coming before council September 20, 2022. Downtown Alliance supports the proposal for the City to lease approximately eight acres of a City-owned parcel to The Other Side Academy for a 40-year term at a rate of $1 per year. We encourage you to vote in favor of the lease plan. Downtown Alliance also supports the proposal to rezone portions of City-owned land from Public Lands (PL) to a Form-Based Urban Neighborhood District (FB-UN2) to allow for the construction of a "tiny home village." I hope that Downtown Alliance's comments in support of these issues are helpful in your decisions and actions on these matters. Dee Brewer  |

After spending time at The Other Side Academy and learning about their organization, I can testify that this village will completely change the lives of every single person they take under their wing as well as the state of Utah as a whole. Too often people who experience economically disadvantaged situations are overlooked and frankly treated horribly. The Other Side Village is an extremely upstream solution when it comes to rehabilitating people who have experienced some of the most unthinkable circumstances back into society. I believe this organization is and will forever be one of the best things that has come out of Utah to date. I have never seen a community of people who are more dedicated to becoming better versions of themselves and to see that kind of commitment is so incredibly powerful. Every single student I've met from The Other Side Academy has inspired me beyond measure and I know wholeheartedly that allowing for this concept to come to fruition will dramatically benefit our society by giving people the opportunity to choose a better life for themselves. The Other Side Academy had already caused a lasting ripple effect that we will see the the positive impact of for years to come. As a citizen of Salt Lake City I hope for nothing more than you, our city council, can see how much good this project will achieve and help make this change happen. Everyone deserves to make a better life for themselves and The Other Side Village will give that opportunity to so many people. |

As a resident of downtown Salt Lake, it is clear that we need an innovative approach aimed at lasting change for those suffering on our streets. Whereas sheltering individuals is important, the more relevant and meaningful way to address this problem is to create a community of accountability, where individuals can transform their lives and live in dignity. Having visited Community First in Austin Texas, I believe change is possible with the appropriate support. In fact, the other side academy has proved this in a different population. Please take away the barriers to making this a reality for our Salt Lake neighbors in dire circumstances.   |

He stressed the need for longer term, tough-love supervision, offering a better way out. I am impressed with their moving business and their Thrift Shop, and got quick response in requesting a pickup after a yard sale. At the Millcreek City meeting last week about a winter homeless shelter, the discussion continued to return to the need for affordable housing. The Other Side has gone a long way in building trust in giving second chances and in being good neighbors. Their plan for the Village deserves a chance to show it can be done!  |

As it is in Seattle, Los Angeles, Chicago. etc. The solution to the problem has not been found or created and the homeless community and how it is handled here is a disaster happening right now. The Other Side Village can be strong response and a step in the right direction moving forward. An initial creation of 30 or 40 units needs to happen yesterday with planned expansion in place. Benchmarks are needed to evaluate the value to the homeless community ( participants ), the city and a comparison how similar programs have been initiated in other cities. Just throwing money at the project and a wait and see approach is a mistake. Delays and waiting have prevented The Village from moving ahead. JUST DO IT NOW. |

We were one of two donors that funded the first moving van for The Other Side Academy. Now they have 10 vans and are rated as the top moving company in Salt Lake. I learned recently that the moving van we funded has brought in $8.2 million dollars in revenue. The Other Side enterprises have been successful at every project they have undertaken. The Other Side Village will be no exception. The Other Side Academy transforms convicted felons into hard-working, dependable citizens. I recently gave a talk on their Ted TOSA talk series and accidentally left my computer in the room. I didn't realize it until I awoke suddenly at 5:30 AM the next morning. I rushed down to the building on 700 E where I had given the talk. At 6:00 AM students (previously criminals) were filing out the front door in matching t-shirts and sweatpants and climbing into moving vans to start their long day moving furniture. I asked about my computer and though none of them knew anything about it, they suggested I go look in the room where I had given the talk. The room was open, and the computer was just where I left it. It occurred to me that this was probably the safest place in Salt Lake as one of their 12 TOSA Beliefs is "Impeccable Honesty." I would trust The Other Side Academy with solving our homeless crisis too. At The Other Side Village, they will take away the stigma of homelessness by building small, inventive homes and having a large common area for dining and socializing. They also plan on building a performance hall to help the students find joy and satisfaction in their lives. Wouldn't you rather see the homeless in neat, little homes, finding satisfaction in their lives, rather than lining the roads in tents and makeshift cardboard dwellings with no path out of their current circumstances? Their four-building location on 700 East and 1st South has beautified the neighborhood. I have no doubt that it will do the same for the Other Side Village neighborhood on Redwood Road and 5th South. Please allow them to continue with this worthy project. Thank you, Lisa Evans |

Their success is an outstanding example of reentry into society from incarceration and homelessness and that is what makes any community the best that it can be. The Other Side Village is sure to be a success because it continues in the same spirit as The Other Side Academy with not only rehabilitation at its best but also REGENERATION of person and character which empowers them to be independently successful though most of them prefer to stay in community because of the healing power. I hope this Council can do all that it can to bring about the establishment of The Other Side Village which is sorely needed in these difficult times. Thank you.   |

Too many chronically unsheltered individuals have nowhere to turn in our community and TOS Village offers a real solution. I've been so impressed with the organization, its plans and the thoughtful coordination going on with other groups across the nation that have had success actually remedying the same issue in various locations. As a resident of Salt Lake, I strongly urge the council to act now and support The Village in order to offer hope and assistance to our chronically unsheltered brothers and sisters. | 9/20/2022 11:15  | Kandy Richards    | D6       | Council Comments | Homelessness  | Approve The Other Side Village | Greetings, I would like to submit my comments in support of your approval for The Other Side Village. We desperately need this housing and I am all in favor of the project. The advantages are numerous, and I believe any negatives can be effectively managed. I agree that it is wise to start with a pilot project then assess what is working well and what needs to be improved, but we should be looking to the future and plan to implement the full project. I first started working with the unsheltered population way back in the late 1980's first as a volunteer and then subsequently have been employed for almost 15 years in the non-profit sector, a number of them working with various service providers for the unsheltered, and specifically individuals facing addiction and mental illness. I understand very well the challenges in serving these populations. I believe that creating permanent, long term solutions like this project are the only reasonable way to move forward. Short term solutions like "camp abatements" and temporary winter overflow shelters are costly and ultimately only minimally effective. Getting people into stable housing is the only way to help them to get back to a more normal life. This project will provide the support, training, counseling, access to health care, jobs and most of all, HOPE that people need to better their lives. I have interacted with the staff and employees of both The Other Side Boutique Thrift Store and The Other Side Movers. I was very impressed by everyone, and I believe that all of the people I met had gone through The Other Side Academy. That means that they were all formerly addicted, incarcerated or unsheltered. They were all friendly, considerate, hardworking and provided great service. I have the utmost confidence that The Other Side Village will be just as well run and effective in this new mission as they have been with these other programs. This success will save the city money by reducing EMS calls, police calls, hospital visits, camp abatements and other services. I believe that you should approve the lease for the pilot project for the full 40 years and that you should re-zone the full 40 acres for future expansion. These decisions show a long term commitment by the city. This will make project fund raising easier, as donors want to know that their money will go to a stable, viable project. It also enables the non-profit to focus on running the pilot program rather than needing to continue to work on receiving city support. PLEASE APPROVE THIS PROJECT!!! Respectfully, Kandy Richards |
| 9/20/2022 11:20  | Bruce Bingham     | D4       | Council Comments | Homelessness  | The Other Side Village         | Dear Salt Lake City Council: We have been impressed with the accomplishments of The Other Side Academy (TOSA) for many years. This organization has a proven track record of changing lives for the better on a long-term basis. Their focus on helping individuals move beyond past mistakes to create a life of healthy purpose and positive progress has strengthened our community. We are also confident about the potential for The Other Side Village. This program of tiny homes is a formula for success for individuals who desire permanent housing and will adhere to standards of improvement under the guidance of qualified on-site TOSA staff. We feel so strongly about the future impact of this work that we have personally contributed the funds needed to construct and furnish one of the tiny homes. We urge the City Council to take the needed steps to support a resolution to lease approximately eight acres of city-owned land to The Other Side Academy for a 40-year term at a rate of $1.00/year. We also urge the City Council to rezone this parcel of land, and any other property needed, from Public Lands (PL) to a Form-Based Urban Neighborhood District (FB-UN2) to allow for the construction of the tiny home village. Please know of our strong support of The Other Side Academy and the construction of The Tiny Home Village. Sincerely, Bruce and Jean Bingham.   |

Since it was first announced in 2021, I've had the privilege of meeting repeatedly with TOSV's team. During this process, I've had the opportunity to provide feedback, share concerns, and participate in the planning process for the village. Representatives of TOSV presented to the Glendale Neighborhood Council and Poplar Grove Community Council in September of 2021. During this meeting they repeatedly answered questions from residents and presented their vision for the site. They later hosted a Design Charette with residents and community leaders, myself included, to provide feedback and respond to questions about the proposed design of the village. Our partnership is strong and TOSV's team regularly participates in community cleanup activities in Glendale and volunteered as part of our team during NeighborWorks Salt Lake's Rake Your Heart Out event. As I have gotten to know TOSV's team and leadership more, and had the opportunity to engage with them, my support for the project has only increased. I'm proud to offer my support to this project and encourage you to do so as well. The proposed zoning amendment request, which was approved by the Salt Lake City Planning Commission on October 27, 2021, is an important step forward. I would encourage you to approve a rezone for the entire project rather than only the initial pilot area. The prospect of going through the extended process each time an expansion is begun is daunting and threatens to delay the creation of new housing options for unsheltered people. TOSV will provide more than just shelter to future residents, it will also be an important gathering space for all members of the community. New amenities like a bodega, sport courts, community performance space, a nondenominational chapel, and green space will revitalize a currently underutilized area and promote a thriving urban neighborhood on the city's Westside. With your support, this vacant land is slated to become an innovative and impactful symbol of our city's commitment to ending homelessness. I'm proud to support this effort to create a permanent welcoming community for the many unsheltered people currently living in parks, public spaces and along the Jordan River. I'm writing today to encourage the Salt Lake City Council to support this critical resource for our community. Thank you, Turner C. Bitton (he/him) |

While we are not residents of Salt Lake City, Derrick's business is located there and we love to visit to shop, eat, and attend events. Our children have attended the Challenger School on 1300 S off and on for many years and it is heartbreaking to drive past the many people sleeping and begging on the side of the street, especially during the winter months. We know this population faces a lot of traumatic history, addiction, and mental health challenges and the solutions are not easy. As much as we would like to help, it is difficult to know how or where to start. We have become acquainted with the Other Side Academy over the last few years and have been impressed by their program and success rates. Their efforts to educate, provide steady employment, and require accountability has proven positive results. We believe that the Other Side Village (while structured a bit differently and focused on a slightly different demographic), will be an effective step in providing not only the much needed affordable housing, but other services, opportunities, and life skills training. Please vote to approve the measures needed to make this village a success. Sincerely, Derrick and Becky Porter  |

| 9/20/2022 15:33  | Tim Funk              | D4             | Council Comments | Affordable Housing | SLC needs an affordable housing loss mitigation | Howdy! This Is Tim Funk, Crossroads Urban Center forwarding our statement that SLC needs an affordable housing loss mitigation ordinance. We believe the ordinance is necessary before you proceed with adoption of RMF-30, SRO or off-street parking measures. According to Harvard University between 2011 and 2018 over 25,000 affordable housing units in the SLC metro area were eliminated or had their price increased beyond what low income renters can afford. During those same years over 15,000 low income renters moved out of the SLC metro area. This exodus of low income people reduces our city's diversity, makes it more challenging for employers to find workers and worsens air quality by increasing commute times. In addition this situation has worsened over the last two plus years because of rampant real estate inflation and the continuing pandemic. This predicament is amplified as developers in SLC are currently not incentivized to preserve affordable housing units nor are penalized when new developments destroy existing affordable units without replacing them. Crossroads Urban Center believes that the City council and the Mayor's office need to work together to pass an affordable housing loss ordinance that includes the following three elements: 1) A requirement the developers report to the City not just how many housing units will be destroyed by a project, but, more importantly, how many affordable units will be destroyed as well, 2) A requirement that developers either replace affordable housing units that are destroyed by the new development or pay $100,000 per unit into the city trust fund to help spur the replacement elsewhere, and, 3) A requirement that developers pay $10,000 into a relocation fund for every affordable unit destroyed to help low income tenants displaced by the development to find a new place to live. Such a mitigation ordinance with these three elements should be in place before city officials move forward with any proposals to spur the development of more housing that is not affordable to the vast majority of renter house holds living in our city. Thank you! Crossroads looks forward to working with you in making our city affordable to anyone who lives here now or chooses to in the future. Best regards. Tim Funk |

It has so much potential to help our city and the chronically homeless within our city. There are successful precedents of programs like this, and I know myself and many in my community would love to see this program come to fruition in Salt Lake City. Please approve the zoning ammendment for the Other Side Village to make it happen!  |

I have been following the progress of the Other Side Village for over a year now, and I honestly believe it's the best, boldest move we've seen in the community yet to helping with the challenge of homelessness. Please help make sure this project goes forward! Thank you and have a great day!   |

Have you stepped back to take a look at the tiny homes? They are unsustainable. One can tell by looking at them. Why are we using our beautiful land for these shacks where no one wants to live? Lets prevent the "other" mentality! With the strong housing market and the desire to build and develop, the city should be expanding its inclusionary housing requirements. Developers will be able to take into account such requirements, along with the strong potential market rents, when acquiring sites. Why does no one want to live in them? Because living there is not really living. The rules are for no person. One's time is not free. You cannot entertain visitors. Services are intermittent. Let's get some real people who are homeless to make real plans to help our homeless citizens like real people. Can we please get a committee of them, with a small group of interfaith people to address ethical issues, and ask what they believe will help? I get that tiny houses are easily seen as a bridge to a permanent housing. But how exactly do you build a bridge to something that doesn't fully exist? And what implications does this have really for these individuals? not having a home is the least of most of these individuals problems. Homeless is not thr root cause, its the symptom. While certainly a step up from shelter beds, are not meant for long-term occupancy. If you think of tiny houses as a simplified yet elegant response to the lavish and excessive houses that many used to dream of, living in a space no larger than a bedroom. but thats beaides thr point! thr fact that its called "the other side" says it all! youre different, youre homeless, youre and issue, you shiuld be relegated on "the other side"! its ridicokous! You deal with homelessness issue by treating the problema that cause it! mental welfare, drug addiction, criminal records, low job skills or none at all! Assuming this will uplift those who "qualify", what about those who don't?  |

The Otherside Academy Villages are a step in the right direction to combat all of the above. We need to become a better state than other's, and not turn our backs. These are people's family member. This could be your family member. The Other Side Academy wants to help. please let them!   |

From a mental health professional perspective this is a healthy opportunity for those with dual diagnosis to be self reliant and live productive and healthy lives. What is different with this project is that these individuals will have coaches working along side them to help them more than has already been done in any Utah community. The Other Side are in the process of deepening the training for their coaches who are working with these individuals. They are partnering with professional mental health providers such as my self and Valley Behavioral Health. I echo the support of those who have already spoken this evening and am in favor of this privately funded project.  |

This fills an important unserved population. I have tried my best to understand the arguments against shared housing but none of them make any sense to me. This is the perfect definition of a "clamor" upon which decisions should not be made. These hyperventilating activists are attacking something not intended to serve them and are unintentionally becoming NIMBYs in the process. They DO NOT speak for this District 5 resident. I live a block from state street and a relatively short distance from two homeless resource centers. I see first hand the housing crisis on a daily basis. We need every housing option on the table and to be building as many units as we are able. Otherwise I fear that we will become the next San Francisco, full of good intentions that pave the road to extreme housing unaffordability. Thank you for your service to our community.  |
| 9/21/2022 9:39   | Adam Gmyrek   | D1             | Council Comments | The Other Side Village  | (EXTERNAL) Indiana Ave homeless shelter comment. | Victoria, Thank you for taking the time to talk with me today about a few Westside issues. Would you please enter my comment to the City Council representatives who will be addressing the new homeless shelter on City property today? Thank you. Regards, Adam Gmyrek I, Adam Gmyrek, would like to go on record; I am against the new homeless shelter disguised as the "tiny home village" being built on the Salt Lake City property at 1850 W Indiana Ave, Salt Lake City, UT. The new "tiny home village" model is a disguise for a homeless shelter; the people who will be living at the tiny home village are being removed from local homeless shelters and placed into a new form of shelter for the homeless – are they not? It is my understanding that the residents who will be awarded to live at the 413-acre parcel owned by the City of Salt Lake are currently homeless and reside at one of the several homeless shelters within Salt Lake City – is this not a true statement of fact? Name it what you want, call it what you choose, Palmer Court, Freedom Landing, Sunrise Metro, Magnolia, Wendell etc., it is a homeless shelter, plain and simple. The people who will be living there are being removed from the local homeless shelters. The goal of the tiny home village is to house people who are homeless; is it not? Thus, a homeless shelter. The Westside does not need another homeless shelter to enhance its community; the Westside has already been enhanced and burdened with the fast tracking of 2-homeless shelters that were created within the last 3-years. Has your memory faded? Finally, entering into a 40-year contract with The Other Side Academy is fiscally irresponsible. The contract with The Other Side Academy should be between 3 to 5 years and then reviewed with attaining its set goals at year 2 or 4 years. If the City then deems The Other Side Academy fit to operate the modern day homeless shelter then a longer contract should be granted. I am emphatically against this modern day homeless shelter.
