Ready for the Earth Day Scavenger Hunt?

We've put together a bingo card full of sustainable actions you and your community take every day to conserve resources, reduce your carbon footprint, and protect the planet.

Get your friends and family together and head outside to look for these Earth Day treasures. Some actions, like walking and riding a bike instead of driving, can be found everywhere in the world. Others, like Salt Lake City's Idle Free and Pesticide Free signs, are special programs found only in Salt Lake City.

We're sure that your Earth Day adventure will be filled with actions that will help us build a more sustainable and resilient community.
